Treasurer's Report – Monica Evans read the treasurers report which reflected a balance of $5111.40 at the end of February. The report was approved by the general membership.

The President announced a restructuring of the agenda to bring on Chancellor Rhee early because she has to leave at 11:00 a.m.

Guest Speaker – Chancellor Michell Rhee

Carrie Thornhill introduced the guest speaker Chancellor Rhee of DC Public Schools. Also on hand were the principals and teachers of Anne Beers, Randall Highlands, Winston Elementary Schools, Kelly Miller Middle and Anacostia High School.

Chancellor Rhee's message to the Hillcrest community is that she wants to be in the community to connect with residents and keep the community informed on school initiatives. DCPS and the community has a "once in a lifetime opportunity to transform schools". Chancellor Rhee encourages citizens to have the courage to persevere through the challenges to get the schools where it should be. Among her goals are to change the culture of school district to ensure that everything is done in service to the schools and children and to create a culture where the priority and interests of adults will not override the rights of the children.

Out of the $100 million revenue surplus $81 million has been dedicated to schools. "Public education should be the great equalizer"; we should not have the dynamic where schools in Tenlytown and Anacostia have vastly different outcomes.

Chancellor Rhee encourages principals to email her directly with their issues and concerns.

The Chancellor's presentation was followed by a brief Q&A session with several educators as well as Hillcrest residents participating. Chancellor Rhee who had to leave early to pick up her children, offered to come back as there was not time to answer the many questions.
